General Directorate of Sport and Youth

Dear Friends,

We have the honour to invite your National Karate Federation to the 5th World Cadet and Junior Karate Championships, which will be held in Istanbul on 19-21 October 2007.

We hope that all the participants will be satisfied with their visit and participation in this professionally organized sports event in Istanbul. We are looking forward to meet you in Istanbul/TURKEY.

Yours Faithfully.

Mehmet ATALAY
The General Director of Youth and Sport General Directorate

It is for me and for all of the components of the World Karate family a great pleasure to visit Istanbul and Turkey. More than 80 World countries are going to meet in Istanbul around Karate, a sport that is proving day by day not only how deep it is merged in our society but also the added value that its practice gives irrespective of age and condition.

Turkey is a very important piece of the European Karate Federation and also of the World Karate Federation, for both qualitative and quantitative reasons. We have lived the progress that karate has experienced in this country and how positively it has been contributing to the worldwide development of our sport.

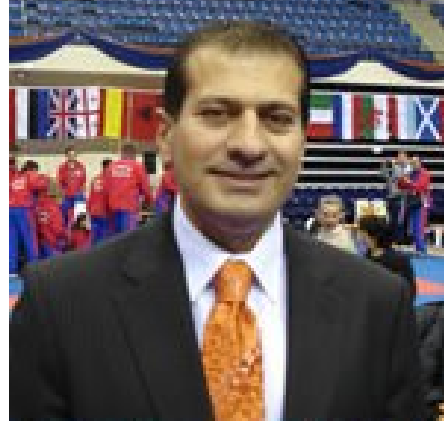

I also want to congratulate the Turkish Karate Federation for the commitment, professionalism and interest shown for the successful organization of these Championships, and wish that this event will serve to further promote karate popularity and practice throughout the country.

In the name of the whole World Karate, I want to thank you for your inestimable contribution, and I am sure that we all will enjoy unforgettable days in Istanbul.

HOW TO GET TO TURKEY

Turkish Airlines THY runs competitive flights to Istanbul from all over the world, alongside the major national carriers, though in some cases from other continents it may prove worthwhile to take a cheaper flight into Europe and to take a connecting flight from there. From northern Europe, the distance, the steady rise in popularity of Turkey as a tourist destination, and the visa restrictions of Bulgaria and Romania combine to make travel by air often the cheapest, and by far the most convenient, direct route to Istanbul. Those with an eye on their budget should scan newspapers and travel agents for huge discounts and charter flights, especially, but not only, during the tourist seasons, and will probably find the effort very well rewarded. On arrival at Istanbul Ataturk Airport there is a rapidly improving bus service (HAVAS) to take you through Aksaray to Taksim. Also, you may always use your attentive taxi driver, which is not too expensive either.

BY LAND

In comparison, travel by land is strictly for those coming from closer, or with places to go en route. By bus, though, for longer distances it's only the sight rather than the feel of the places that's on offer as the journey can't usually be broken and rejoined, and interminable border crossings and transit visas only reinforce the feelings that your holiday would be best spent in Istanbul itself rather than on the way there.

BY CAR

By car there are likely to be similar border concerns, and visas should be looked into well in advance of crossing the Balkans. The most attractive route is to park your car on a boat in Venice for a more relaxed Mediterranean voyage to Izmir, where you'll be able to compare the Italian style of driving with the Turkish as you head up the Aegean coast to Istanbul. For entry into Turkey, an international driving license and insurance are necessary, and for tax purposes the same car must be with you when you leave.

BY RAIL

By rail, too, you can normally arrange to break your journey and explore the lands you are crossing, but with flying a cheaper alternative, then unless you have a specific destination en route, train travel should only be considered by those with a deep fear of both flying and buses. For the incurably romantic with plenty of money and little sense of direction there is always the Orient Express, but unfortunately it no longer goes as far as Istanbul and you'll have to make your own way from Venice.

The scope of this guide stops at saluting and wishing well the bold and energetic few who are already convinced to undertake the journey by bicycle... www.tcdd.gov.tr

The Orient Express

Inaugurated in 1883 by a French railway company the Orient Express soon became the stuff legends are made of. Originally travelling from Paris through Munich, Vienna and Sophia to the Sirkeci station of Istanbul, passengers could continue the journey, traveling by boat across the Bosphorus to the Haydarpasa Railway Station to join the Taurus Express to Anatolia. Although the route varied throughout the years it ran from Paris to Istanbul, a distance of 3186 kilometers. A monument to the hedonistic days of the late 19th and early 20th century it was the most luxurious long distance rail journey in the history of travel. Royalty; aristocracy; the rich and the famous traveled regularly on the Orient Express. Its passenger list read like a volume of "who's who". Gourmet chefs, chandeliers, fully equipped bathrooms, staterooms and dining rooms on par with the Ritz were all part of the train. It takes on a myth like quality in our current times of 'functional' travel. Woven into the plot of many books, it is remembered today mainly through Agatha Christie's book (and later a film) "Murder on the Orient Express".

The Orient Express slowly declined in the 1930s with the Simplon Orient Express and the Arlberg Orient Express partially replacing it. In the 1980s the Orient Express was re-introduced by entrepreneurs running from Paris to Vienna (1390km) and from Stuttgart to Prague (1253km). The "Orient Express" surely being a misnomer for these routes.. Unfortunately in the 1990s we are more interested in the speed we can reach our destination rather than the journey itself. The days of opulent train travel are long gone but the mere mention of the name Orient Express still evokes visions of past glories.
